Support your business with our Cofunded Projects Team skills.

A Best Practice is not about inventing a project as a response to a call for proposals; it's the trust you put in professionals capable of supporting you all along the project lifecycle, of germinating ideas through their selection and matching with the most suitable European co-financing programmes. Someone able to build consensus and cross-border consortiums around them. Experience and a wide international contacts network are our "tools of the trade" dedicated to the transformation of your ideas and needs into winning proposals.

Proper use of European funding, indeed, supports SMEs in creating new economic activities based on the results of research and development assets, bringing faster to market new products, processes and services, supporting the promotion of technological and business development at an international level catalyzing, inter alia, technological innovation, environmental protection, risk prevention, mobility, sustainable urban development, economy of knowledge, and quality of life for elderly people and the disabled.
